Home Christmas Decoration Prizes Announced by Lions

Vos, Gibbs, Mount Homes Receive Annual Prize Awards

Three Antioch families were $30 richer this week with the awarding of the annual Antioch Lions club prizes for home Christmas decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. F. Vos received first prize of $15, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gibbs, second, $10, and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Mount, third, $5.

Three Chicagoans, a woman and two men, who have requested of Lions President Oscar E. Hachmeister that their names not be announced, were prevailed upon to act as judges.

Others Also Fine

In commenting on the home decorations in general throughout the village, the judges stated that while the three chosen were outstanding, many others were unusually attractive.

No prizes were awarded for store displays, although many of these also showed a great deal of beauty and ingenuity.

Ravenglen Bull is Chosen for Holstein "All American" Herd

King Bessie Senator, three-year-old bull from Ravenglen farms, Antioch owned by E. H. Ravenscroft, chairman of the board of directors of Abbott Laboratories, was given All-American rating from among state fair winners by the Holstein-Friesian association of America, it was announced today.

The prize-winning bull was chosen a member of the All-American Holstein-Friesian show herd of 1940 by a committee of 14 of the nation's leading cattle judges. He was selected in competition with dozens of other prize winners from all the state, provincial and national shows of the United States and Canada.

All-American is the highest of three classifications, the others being Reserve All-American and Honorable Mention. Hawthorne Farms, Libertyville was awarded an Honorable Mention.

This year every animal that won first or second at a state fair or provincial exhibition, or first or second at a show of national scope, was considered eligible for nomination.

Immediately after the National Dairy show, a nominating committee met and selected from a vast array of prize winners, eight in each class considered most worthy of election. These eight in each class were then submitted to the full committee of 14 judges, who voted independently.

The only other All-American from Illinois was Iovana Ormsby Aggie Burke, bull calf owned by Hill-Man farms, Rockford, named a member of the 1940 show herd by the association.

This was the fourth successive year in which King Bessie Senator rated All-American. He took first prize, three year old bull, senior and grand champion at Waterloo Dairy cattle congress this year; All-American two year old in 1939; All-American senior yearling in 1938; All American bull calf in 1937, and Reserve All-time, All-American bull calf.

His dam, Lady Senator Madison, is one of the best foundation cows at Ravenglen, where she is just finishing a record which is expected to be between 800 and 850 pounds of fat. She, in turn, is the daughter of Senator Ormsby Fobes of Silver Glen, from a dam with 954.8 pounds of fat.

The All-American bulls of 1940 include three offspring of King Bessie, originally owned by the Elmwood farm at Deerfield, King Bessie and his descendants have been 35 times All-American; 27 times Reserve All-American; threetimes All-Time All-American and five times Reserve Alltime All-American.

ZION BUILDER DIES

Frederick E. Will, 92, veteran Zion builder who aided in the construction of Dr. John Alexander Dowie's homes, Shiloh House and Shiloh Cottage, in Zion, and the Shedd and McCormick mansions in Lake Forest, died Friday morning at his home. Services were held Monday afternoon, with burial in Lake Mound Cemetery.

Frank T. Stanton of Ingleside, veteran Grant township supervisor and one of the recognized powers on the Lake county board, and James Mack, Libertyville township supervisor for 8 years, also an influential member of the board, will not seek re-election next spring, they announce.

Lake County Fire Departments Show Progress During Year

The Lake County Firemen's association has grown from its beginning in 1932 into one of the foremost sectional firemen's groups in the United States with an enrollment of 22 departments, representing over 500 firemen, according to Norman Conrad, secretary. This enrollment includes the following paid, part-paid, volunteer, and industrial departments:

Antioch, Deerfield, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Gurnee, Highwood, Long Grove, Libertyville, Lake Zurich, Lake Bluff, Mundelein, Round Lake, Wauconda, Highland Park, Lake Forest, North Chicago, Waukegan, Lake Villa, Zion, Abbott Laboratories, Chicago Hardware Foundry company, Johns-Manville Products corporation.

Departments Co-operate

This association became the first group of its kind to put into published form a listing of county-wide fire-fighting and first-aid equipment available at a time of crisis, together with a catalog of reciprocity between all member departments. The value of such a publication might not be immediately apparent to the individual not engaged in fire fighting or first aid work, but from authorities in these fields it has received the highest praise.

At a time of crisis, there might arise a necessity for, let us say, a number of gas masks, a number of inhalators, a portable lighting unit, or, probably more important than all, a group of trained first-aid men. Reference to this book will immediately give the local fire department the necessary information as to where these necessities may be procured, in what quantity they may be procured, and the number of trained men immediately available.

Use Two-way Radio

Arrangements have just been completed with the office of the sheriff of Lake county whereby the fire departments of the county have the use of the two way radio. In rural areas, means of communication are often a serious problem—the nearest telephone may be a mile or more away from the scene of the fire. To call in additional companies, or to call in additional equipment, such as first-aid supplies and ambulances, would not only take a considerable length of time, but would handicap the company by the necessity of dispatching a man to perform this mission. Under the new arrangement, the local telephone operator, after calling out the fire company, will also notify the sheriff's office. The nearest cruising squad is then dispatched to the fire, and any calls for assistance are handled directly through the two-way radio and the sheriff's office—minimizing both time and effort.

The Lake County group is always well represented at the annual Fire college, which is held in June of each year at the University of Illinois in Champaign.

The member departments entertain the entire association by invitation, and meetings are held regularly on the fourth Monday of each month, with the exception of July, August, and December. The January meeting will be held in Fox Lake, and in February the members of the Wauconda department will be hosts to the association.

CCC Saving Fund for Enrollees Is Announced

Better terms for the CCC enrollee, starting with the January enrollment, were announced today by Mrs. Martha Donaldson, local certification agent.

Heretofore an enrollee has been required to allot $22 of his $30 monthly earnings to his dependents. Under the new regulations, $7 will be set aside each month in a special deposit fund to be held for the enrollee until his discharge. Eight dollars will be paid to him monthly in cash, and only $15 allotted to his dependents.

Under this plan, an enrollee spending a six-months term in the corps will on discharge, have $42 with which to buy clothing and other necessities while he searches for a job.

Applications are now being taken for the January CCC enrollment quota at the local office of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, 7 N. County st., Waukegan.

Fifty camps are scheduled for operation in Illinois during the current period, and the employment of approximately 10,000 CCC boys on conservation work projects is planned.

GLEN GOODELL BACK AT OLD JOB IN WAUKEGAN

Glen Goodell returned to the position he formerly held for 11 years as bookkeeper in the accounting department of the North Shore Gas company in Waukegan. Goodell was obliged to give up his work there a few years ago because of poor health. He began work there again on Monday.

Housing Shortage Creates Chance For Investors

Apartment Building May Be Answer to Rental Problem Here

With real estate still regarded as the safest investment in the world, the housing shortage in Antioch presents an opportunity for profitable investment, according to local real estate brokers who have been unable to supply even a small percentage of demand for living quarters here for several years.

That lack of proper and adequate living quarters has hindered the growth of the village, there seems no doubt, and it is believed also that lack of housing has served to discourage the establishment of industrial plants in the area. Just now the Pickard Pottery plant, which is inaugurating an expansion program, is facing a problem in finding proper living quarters for the families it expects to bring to Antioch; and it is believed many employees will have to be housed temporarily in summer cottages in the vicinity.

That an apartment house building would be desirable as a private investment, and would "pay out", is the belief of E. E. Brook, Antioch real estate broker, and his opinion is shared by other brokers including J. C. James and S. B. Nelson. There is plenty of idle capital in the community, according to James, and he would favor the selling of stock locally in the promotion of such a plan to be handled by local people exclusively to the exclusion of outside promoters who would expect to collect a commission for their services, thus increasing the investment required. Such a plan handled locally would not only be a desirable investment but it would constitute a civic service.

Local brokers concur, however, that the investment in any building project should be kept within modest bounds, so that the average family may have comfortable quarters at a rental they can afford to pay.

Chain-O-Lakes Ill. Park Area Continues Growing, State Reports

Acquisition of 700 acres for the new Chain O' Lakes state park around Fox and Pistakee Lakes in western Lake county during 1940 is reported by the state division of parks.

With these lands, Illinois' state park holdings now total about 17,000 acres, ranking the state among the leading resort states in the nation.

With a comprehensive five-year plan in view for development of the Chain O'Lakes area, the state has been steadily acquiring lands surrounding the lakes area through purchases and gifts.

A World War Veterans' CCC camp situated near Fox Lake, operated under the war department, and directed by the National Park service, has been landscaping the property recently acquired, making improvements designed to enhance the area as a state park. A dam has been completed on the Fox river at McHenry in order to control the river and thus make possible the conservation of wild life and the regulation of water levels on the lakes.

Over 4,500,000 residents of Illinois and other states visited state parks in 1940, thereby setting a new attendance record.

The development council program, the report said, resulted in more than 60,000 direct inquiries from tourists and thousands of other inquiries about Illinois parks. Approximately $100,000 was spent on the advertising program.

Highlighting the 1941 park season will be the opening next June of the $350,000 lodge at Pere Marquette state park near Grafton.

"Loan Collections" Help Extend Scope of Library

Holiday time isn't exactly "dull" at Antioch Township library, Miss Mary Stanley, librarian, says, for the average daily circulation of 70 to 100 books hasn't shown much of a drop.

The library co-operates with schools in the village and in communities near here with loans of "collections" of books.

These loans may be made up of books suitable for reading references in connection with school work, or of works of fiction, travel and biography stories suitable for young readers.

A number of teachers have brought groups of pupils for visits to the library, and have had them help in selecting books for "loan collections" for their schools.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boehm, Lake Villa, Dec. 27 in St. Therese hospital.

One of the those old timers who really make the "younger generation" wonder if it is growing effete is E. O. "Dad" Hawkins, who was 81 years young on New Year's Day.

In the afternoon, instead of sitting home and toasting his feet by a warm fire, "Dad" Hawkins strolled down to the Recreation parlors and proceeded to gather for himself quite a gallery of spectators by bowling three games.

When someone solicitously inquired, "Dad, aren't you afraid you'll be a little bit lame tomorrow?" he replied, "Nopel I keep myself in trim by doing quite a bit of work around my place!"

And folks who see him personally plow up the garden patch in the spring and do other "bits of work" throughout the year agree that he probably didn't feel half so lame today as many a younger fellow would.

MERCEDES BURNS TO SING AT V.F.W. HOLIDAY PARTY

—headline in Waukegan paper.

Well, why don't they let her?

We just can't quit reading the papers and we see where a guy with a truck crashed into an automobile on Highway 20. It was a sheriff's squad car. Imagine his surprise. And theirs.

We also see where matters have come to such a pretty pass over in Highwood that the cops are arresting the aldermen . . . and the cops are accusing the aldermen of swearing at them and calling them names. Gentlemen!! Gentlemen!! . . . or are you?

And the Highland Park cops are having that "gypped feeling" after looking hard to find the body of a motorist whose car was discovered wrecked along the Chicago and North-western freight right-of-way. The motorist, comparatively unscathed, had gone home to Evanston, they found out later.

Which reminds us, and maybe we've told you before about one time when we were being real nice talking to a police officer and made some reference to police officers in general. And he said, "Oh, you mean the cops?" So now we call 'em that to their faces . . . only in a nice tone, of course.

Continuing our reading circle reviews, we see where a couple (are, is—we're strictly neutral on this preferred usage stuff) on the verge of divorce it seems that during a quarrel he said "For $10 I'd leave this place." So she gave him the $10.

Margie Bright Winner of Rantoul Poster Contest

Miss Margie Bright of Foosland, Champaign county, Ill., is announced as winner of the grand prize in a Christmas poster contest sponsored by the Rantoul Chamber of Commerce merchants.

Miss Bright, who is the daughter of L. O. Bright, a former principal of Antioch Township High school, was also the winner in the third year high school group.

During Christmas week the posters were on display in Rantoul store windows.

Plan Electrical Reproduction Co. Expansion

McMillen, Planning Eastern Tour, Disposes of Interests to Yates

Plans for the expansion of the Electrical Reproduction company to permit acceptance of government and airline contracts were revealed today by E. B. Yates, president of the company.

Jim McMillen, who has been associated with the company as draftsman and engineer as well as a partner in the enterprise, has severed his connections with the company and sold his interest to Yates. McMillen is planning to leave soon on an extensive wrestling program in the east.

Demand for Products

Widespread interest in the developments of the company, which has installed improved radio apparatus for sheriffs' and police departments in various localities, and an increased demand for its products necessitate the proposed expansion of the business.

The company will continue its policy of maintaining a service department for the convenience of its many local customers.

City Briefs

Mrs. Harold T. Andrews and daughter, Colleen, and son, Harold, Camp Lake, Wis., were visitors in Antioch today. Mr. Andrews is associated with the "Accountancy" Training Institute, and is one of several Camp Lake residents who "commute" to Chicago daily.

New Year's Day was especially happy for the Hans von Holwede family, for their baby daughter Hilda Ruth, born Dec. 22, and Mrs. von Holwede were able to come home from St. Therese hospital in time for the day's festivities.

Armand Dalgard will leave this week-end for Lakeland, Fla., where he will visit his brother, Windsor Dalgard. He also plans to visit at Miami and Key West before returning in about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pickus had as New Year's Day guests Mr. and Mrs. Orov Rosen, Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Pickus. In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Walenski of Chicago were callers.

Sixty were present at the annual banquet of the Antioch High school alumni, held Saturday evening at Brass Ball Corners. Dancing was enjoyed after the dinner and program.

Classes were resumed in Antioch Grade school today, after the holiday recess. Antioch High school's vacation will continue through this week, with classes starting on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Birger passed New Year's Day in Chicago with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Birger, and grandson, Jimmy Birger.

Funeral services for Mrs. Sophie Wolfe, wife of Frank Wolfe, Ingleside, were held Friday morning in Fox Lake, with burial at Oregon, Wis.

Weather Causes Postponement of Winter Carnival

Antioch Outdoor Sports Festival Will Be Held Later in Month

Because of warm weather and rain, the Winter Sport carnival which was to have been held at Lake Antioch on New Year's Day is being postponed until later in January.

Jim McMillen, who with Reuben H. Childers has been working on the program committee of the Antioch Winter Sports association, states that the carnival will be held as early as possible, and that its program of events will remain unchanged.

These include speed skating, races and contests, skiing and tobogganing during the day.

In the evening fireworks, a general skating party and the crowning of the "Queen of the Carnival" will take place.

Entries Continue

While postponement of the carnival has disappointed many ardent sport fans who had made plans to be present as participants or spectators on New Year's Day, it will not be entirely without benefit.

Many persons who might have been unable to enter the events because of previous plans for the day may now be able to take part.

Additional time for the securing of entries will be available, and in many instances entrants will also have a little more time to "practice up."

Entry blanks are repeated in this issue of the Antioch News.

In addition to the carnival, sports events of various sorts will be featured at Lake Antioch throughout the winter.

Floodlights will permit evening skating and a custodian will be present during the week as well as on Saturdays and Sundays.

Hockey games are among the possible winter sport events being anticipated as soon as the weather turns colder.

Lake-Cook Farm Supply Co. Has $45,000 Dividend

The board of directors of the Lake-Cook Farm Supply company voted a $45,000 dividend to be paid to farmers in Lake and Cook counties at the annual meeting to be held at Lake Zurich on January 18. This dividend was passed at a special meeting of the board at Des Plaines, following a review of the audit of the year's business.

This audit showed a substantial increase in business to attain a volume of $510,000.00 on which a big savings for the huge dividends was made by a strict adherence to the company's budget on operating expenses. The $45,000 dividend declared represents 6% on Preferred Stock, 15% on Petroleum Products and 7% on Miscellaneous Purchases consisting of Feeds, Seeds, Fuel Oil, etc. This 7% dividend on miscellaneous purchases is an increase of 1% over last year's dividend and the largest ever paid in this department by the company.

The company has completed 13 successful years of business. It is entirely owned and operated by the farmers.

The board of directors is made up of active farmers in the territory, with eight from each county. These directors are: Eb. Harris, Alfred Landmeier, D. H. Minto, Ed. Stumpf, Willard Darrell, Jacob Ouwenga, A. J. Weidner, Louis Huchsch, Ben Snyder, Bert Edwards, Louis Luerssen, Harvey Adair, Art Mauo, Homer J. Long, C. A. Faulkner, Earl Kane.

Fox Lake Bartender Saves Two Who Crash Through Ice on Pistakee

When Gus Grimm, bartender at the Park Manor hotel, Fox Lake, sets about rescuing anybody, he's thorough. Not only did Gus manage—unaided—to save Mrs. Helmer Ekberg, 45, and her neighbor, George Brenig, 76, when they broke through the ice as they attempted to return to their homes on Cedar Island, Pistakee Lake, from a shopping trip, but he also saved the groceries.

Mrs. Ekberg and Brenig were about 100 feet from the shoreline of Pistakee lake when the ice gave way, Grimm sighted them at the same time and dashed to rescue them, while two other men standing on the shore refused, it is said, to give help.

Mrs. Ekberg was taken from the water within a few moments, and Brenig was also helped out of his icy surprise bath in short order. They were rushed to the home of Mrs. Edward Blomness near by for first aid.

ON THE DOT

A short time ago, a man walked panting into the office of the Wisconsin State Treasurer. Under his arm was a very remarkable check. It was remarkable for its size — it measured six feet by two, and was the largest ever to clear through a Madison bank. And it was even more remarkable for the amount of money it represented. The check was written for $1,087,518.70 — and it marked the 1940 tax payment of the Wisconsin Power and Light Company to the state in which it operates. Total taxes paid by the company to all units of government amounted to $2,000,000. Fifteen years ago taxes took a little more than six cents out of each dollar this company received in revenue from its customers. Today taxes take around 18 cents.

That million-odd dollars means much to the people of Wisconsin. It will pay for roads and for upkeep of governmental departments. It will educate children and provide police and fire protection. It will go out in relief checks to the needy. It will do a thousand-and-one similar jobs. And what is true in Wisconsin is true to a greater or lesser extent in every other state of the union. The utilities everywhere are among the largest payers — when times are hard they don't let back taxes pay — when times are hard they don't let back taxes pile up. The pay in full when the day comes — just as they pay in full, right on the dot, for labor and materials and everything else.

When the government goes into the utility business, these gigantic tax payments are wholly or largely lost. That means that all other taxpayers must pay more to make up the deficit. Or it means that worthwhile state activities must be cut down for lack of funds. Or it may mean an increase in the public debt — to be paid, with accumulated interest, on some future day. These are a few of the hidden costs of socialized power.

The Wisconsin case is just one example of the fact that it is private enterprise which keeps this country going.

It is from private enterprise that taxes must be raised to finance the defense program, not from tax-exempt municipal or Federally owned business.

INTERNAL STRENGTH NEEDED

At a time when every American is considerably interested — quite properly — in the physical defenses of our country, it is not inopportune to listen to careful but wise words about our internal economic strength. For without economic strength, we can not be physically strong.

On this point the recent views of Phillip D. Reed, Chairman of the Board of General Electric Co., aptly point up the situation.

As an example of the disintegration that results from lack of strong internal defense, Mr. Reed cites the tragic experience of France. "The battle of France was not won on the battlefield," he said, "nor was the much vaunted French Army defeated in any real sense. Indeed, the battle was not won at all; it was lost before it began, and the real victor was economic anaemia and social disintegration in the French Republic."

Analyzing our present economic condition, Mr. Reed points to both the advantages and the problems resulting from the sudden stimulation to industry of our national defense program. Thus though the current high level of activity has resulted from defense production, a brand new set of problems is at hand. In discussing these problems, Mr. Reed states:

"The elements are with us that make for inflation and a war-time boom in prices. Government and industry alike are determined that this shall not occur. It can be prevented without government compulsion if, and only if, every company, every industry and every organized group in the country will firmly embrace and accept the principle that prices and wages shall not be advanced arbitrarily to take advantage of the situation created by the defense activity."

"Although profit margins on defense work will be narrow — indeed, too narrow to be justified under normal circumstances — we are here faced with very special conditions which call for cooperation and for sacrifice by all."

We concur in Mr. Reed's statement that it is the responsibility of all Americans "to exert at the proper time and place the full weight of our strength, our ideals, and our leadership toward a realistic, economic, and therefore lasting peace."

The Love Comedy Co. which was billed to appear at the Wilton Opera house Thursday and Friday of last week disbanded here after giving their opening performance. The manager, Arthur Love, proved to be a dead beat of the worst sort and after running several bills quietly disappeared. It is such people as Love that makes our people disgusted with all shows and when one comes along that deserves patronage the chances are that they will show to a slim house.

Steps toward the redemption of thousands of acres of swamp land in what is known as the big sag are being taken in the vicinity of Avon and Fremont, and two miles of a canal that will drain the territory are already completed. It will extend from a point south of Hainesville thru the Grayslake peat fields nearly to Wauconda and will be twelve miles long when completed.

All Zion is now looking for work outside the fold. Even the wash women have been told that the plying of their trade interferes with the prosperity of the Zion laundry, and that henceforth they must not do the washings.

With the same dare-devil audacity his life, Capt. Alexander McLean, which has characterized every act of scholar, poacher, athlete, tyrant and the original of Jack London's "Sea Wolf," has sailed his little craft in from the icy north to the harbor of Victoria, B. C., and now flaunts his colors in the face of the gunboats of two great nations who have been seeking him for months, says the Brooklyn Citizen. Several prominent business men of San Francisco are believed to have backed him financially in his illegal sealing at the northern rookeries.

National thrift is necessary in the United States, and as economy and saving have become the imperative duty of everyone, the war will make the United States a nation of savers.

In a circular headed "Hints for the Unconscious Slackers," the War loan organization lists a few of the "wastes of peace" as follows:

Have you bought all the War Savings stamps you think you can? Have you exhausted your means of saving?

Do you put out all unnecessary gas and electric lights?

Do you keep the temperature of your rooms down to 68 degrees and see that there is sufficient humidity in the air?

Do you avoid unnecessary travel? Do you save gasoline, rubber and skilled labor by cutting all unnecessary use of motor cars?

Do you buy only clothing that is necessary and will wear well? Are you wearing your old things?

Are you making simplicity in dress and living your motto?

Are you cutting down on amusements?

Are you foregoing personal luxuries?

Have you more sweaters and woolen

Do you refrain from unnecessary clothes than you actually need? repairs and improvements?

Do you go shopping when you do not need to?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 20.

The Golden Text was, "The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened" (Matthew 13:33).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is. For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that sprouteth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but his leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit. Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for thou art my praise" (Jeremiah 17:7, 8, 14).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Whoever would demonstrate the healing of Christian Science must abide, strictly by its rules, heed every statement, and advance from the rudiments laid down. There is nothing difficult nor tedious in this task, when the way is pointed out, but self-denial, sincerity, Christianity, and persistence alone win the prize, as they usually do in every department of life" (p. 402).

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

'More Aid to Great Britain' Problem Faces Opening Sessions of Congress; Tempo of Attacks on Italy Stepped Up; Report 'Heavy' British Shipping Losses

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

77TH CONGRESS: Washington Gloomy

As the new congress comes into being, it meets in a Washington that is marked by a mood far from optimism. There is public talk, which may be nothing more, that Britain has only a 90-day grace period before Hitler strikes hard—and that Britain is far from well prepared and American "aid" has fallen down.

The first job of the new congress will be to stir the public, industry and labor out of that lethargy. Efforts already have begun in speeches by Defense Chief William Knudsen, and Secretaries Stimson and Hull.

The topic of all is the same: It is much later than you think. They hope by painting the defense picture in its true colors to convince workers, employees and the general public that there must be an immediate all-out arms production and all other considerations—labor's right and profits—must step aside until the job is done.

New Board

One step in this direction was appointment by President Roosevelt of a new super-production board on defense. It has been given complete executive authority—all the constitution allows, according to the President—to act in the name of the government. The national advisory defense council which has been carrying on the work up until this time has been pure that, advisory. It lacked authority.

The new board will have authority, probably more than most people expect, and will crack down. Knudsen has been named chairman and Sidney Hillman, C. I. O. vice president and enemy of John L. Lewis, is vice chairman. War Secretary Stimson and Navy Secretary Knox are the other members.

Job Ahead

The job is monumental. Army housing is 60 per cent behind schedule with only 300,000 soldiers on active duty, out of a contemplated 1,400,000. Not a single airplane ordered since congress voted money last July has been delivered. If any tanks have been delivered it is a secret. When it was decided to build one munitions plant and work on construction more than 40 hours a week, that was "news."

Most startling of all was the lack of realization on the part of too many that in this war those nations which sensed their danger too late have reached their war potentialities too late—or not at all.

CHANGED MAN:

New U. S. Envoy

In 1936, British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden asked the League of Nations to vote an embargo against Italy because the Duce invaded Ethiopia. The man who led the fight against such a proposal was a Frenchman, Pierre Laval, at the moment French premier. Laval supported Italy and kept the League's action from being unanimous.

Eden's battle at Geneva aroused the enmity of Mussolini and so bitter was the exchange that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, then in the beginning of his appeasement drive, forced Eden to resign. In Eden's place came Lord Halifax, a member of the Cliveden set and supporter of appeasement. He laid the groundwork for the pact of Munich, where Czechoslovakia was sold down the river and Hitler gained the idea all Europe would bow to his whim.

But times change and sometimes men change too. Lord Halifax now is described as one of the most determined men in England in support of the war effort. The death of Lord Lothian, British ambassador to the United States, gives Lord Halifax a new task. He steps down from the foreign ministry, where he directed ambassadors, to become an ambassador himself, being assigned to Washington.

Back into the foreign ministry in London goes Anthony Eden, who would take personal as well as patriotic delight in knocking out Mussolini.

Pierre Laval? He's out of the French cabinet at this time, but German influence is seeking to have him replaced. Until such can be brought to pass, he will live in Paris, under protection of the Nazi invaders.

WAR ON ITALY:

Tempo Increases

Fearful of being too optimistic, but still hopefully, the eyes of the democratic nations were turned on Italy. Reverses for the Fascist legions were reported by the Greeks in Albania and by the British in Egypt. There were continued reports of falling morale on the home front.

If Italy should crack it would be a serious blow to the Axis. Even an

BENITO MUSSOLINI
He heard a few excuses.

Axis is no stronger than its weakest spoke.

The forward march of the killed Greek Evzones in Albania appeared to be slowed down. There were desperate counter-attacks by the Italians and some towns were retaken. But the Greeks were certain it was just a momentary halt and the march north could be resumed.

From Africa, Field Marshal Rodolfo Graziani reported to the Duce on why his Egyptian campaign had been such a dismal failure; and why after making a 75-mile advance into British territory he halted for three months and then suffered a serious defeat.

He said he had not received mechanical equipment from home which had been promised to him. Even before the British attacked and drove him far back into Libya, he reported, he knew of their plans. He denied the campaign against him was a surprise and said that so many Italians, reportedly as high as 80,000, were lost because they chose to fight into the "last spasm" rather than retreat.

But excuses don't win battles, and good reason or no, the Libyan forces had lost all their gains and were in a desperate plight to save the remnants of their army. The British indicated that an even more extensive blow was being aimed and hinted much of Libya may be in their hands by spring.

Even the British navy mocked the Italians. In broad daylight, with flags flying and openly inviting attack, a squadron of the royal navy swept through the Straits of Otranto and into the Adriatic, Mussolini's private lake. It was an open dare to the Italians to come out and fight, but no Fascist man-o-war appeared. So the British crossed over to Valona, Albanian port used by Mussolini's forces, and turned their guns on the harbors. Then they sailed out into the Mediterranean again.

Spies Executed

On Armistice Day, November 11, the Royal Air Force called at the Italian naval base at Taranto. In the subsequent informalities, London says bombs were dropped that sank or crippled half Italy's navy.

Mussolini gave his answer to that. One Italian naval officer and a civilian were executed and 22 others jailed, including a woman who was given a life term. Spies, said the Fascists. They were accused of giving information that helped the British locate the vessels.

Cruise—Adm. William D. Leahy, appointed U. S. ambassador to France, spent the holidays on the high seas. The U. S. S. Tuscaloosa, used by the President for his vacation cruises, carried the envoy to Lisbon, Spain, en route to his new job.

Fighter—Gene Tunney, retired undefeated heavyweight boxing champion, is wearing a naval uniform. The former marine buck private was commissioned a lieutenant commander and assigned as physical instructor to three naval aviation training stations.

Tragedy—Great crowds lined the streets of Helsinki and in a torchlight ceremony waved farewell to Kyosti Kallio, retiring president who carried the nation through crisis in peace and war. The 67-year-old statesman was bound to his ancestral home after seeing his successor take the reins of government. At the railway station he turned and waved to the crowds. Then he slumped to the ground and died in the arms of Gen. Baron Mannerheim, Finland's military hero.

ANGER IN BERLIN:

Sharp Words to U. S.

The official Nazi spokesman turned a wrathful tongue loose on the United States. The American policy of giving all aid to Britain "short of war" appeared heading toward a critical stage.

The spokesman said American foreign policy was one of "pinpricks, injury, challenge and moral aggression" against Germany. On the other hand, he said, the Reich had "exercised restraint to the point of self-effacement." He talked of "warlike acts."

Crux of the irritation was a statement by British Minister of Shipping Ronald Cross who told reporters England "looks with a covetous eye" on every ton of shipping in American ports. The transfer of "a certain number of enemy ships," plus United States ships was seen by him as the only way for "replenishments of any consequences."

The British shipping situation was admittedly serious. In the past several weeks U-boats have accounted for an average of three British vessels each day. The losses in tonnage are not as severe as during the World war, but the British have fewer ships, and cannot rely on Allies as they could in 1917.

The American merchant marine is now estimated at 1,600,000 tons. Also there are about 470,000 tons of German ships in American ports, waiting out the war.

"The Reich," said the Berlin spokesman, "is therefore centering its entire attention upon America's reaction."

Mussolini jumped into the argument the following day. Through his editorial spokesman, Virginia Gayda, he called attention to the Berlin policy and said, "Me, too."

CROP NEWS:

Wheat and Hogs

The department of agriculture made two announcements of interest to farmers and food buyers.

The first was that the 1941 wheat crop again would be above the 10 year average which is 571,007,000 bushels. The estimate of the 1941 yield was 633,000,000 bushels. In 1940 the crop gave 589,151,000 bushels; and in 1939 569,741,000 bushels.

Economists also predicted an increase of between 16 and 32 per cent in hog prices by March and an even larger increase in the retail figure for pork. They said it was quite probable that hogs, now averaging about $6.25 per hundred pounds in Chicago, would be selling $1 to $2 higher before winter is over.

MISCELLANY:

¶ The wealthy family of Count and Countess Marc de Tristan, whose young son was snatched by a kidnaper recently, were the intended victims of another extortion plot which threatened the 3-year old child.

¶ There will be no award of a Nobel peace prize for 1940. In German-occupied Norway, where the awards formerly were made, an announcement was made that the prize would be passed over for the second year in succession.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JESUS AND HUMAN AFFLICTIONS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 13:1-5, 10-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—"We have not a high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities.—Hebrews 4:15.

A sense of guilt for sin seems to be in every human heart. Some deny it, or seek to suppress it, but it has a way of revealing itself, especially when trouble or sorrow comes. How often one hears even persons who are spiritually indifferent and careless say that some catastrophe is a punishment for sin. The assumption is that the one who suffers much is a great sinner, but our study of Job taught us that such is not necessarily the case. In our lesson for today we learn from Jesus Himself regarding human affliction. His attitude toward it should guide us in our attitude. First of all He makes clear that we are all

I. Perishing Sinners (vv. 1-5).

Someone, apparently a Judean, told Jesus, possibly with a sense of real pious satisfaction, that certain Galileans (whom the Judeans did not like) had been slain while they were at worship. Evidently the implication was, "What terrible sinners they must have been!" How like that are the expressions of people today!

Jesus met the question by giving another similar incident right in Judea, thus rebuking false racial pride; then went on to point out that what they (and we) need to remember is that all men are sinners and will perish eternally unless they repent. "A man can perish though Pilate never slay him. He can perish though no tower crush him. He may die in his bed, with his friends all about him; and even have music when he dies, but he will be damned unless he repent" (G. Campbell Morgan).

The important thing is not the relative sinfulness of men, but the fact that God "commands all men everywhere to repent" (Acts 17:30). We are all sinners, either saved by grace or eternally lost. Sinner, turn to the

II. Powerful Saviour (vv. 10-13).

Here was a woman, spiritually alert, but physically afflicted. She was in the synagogue (vv. 10, 11), and she was a daughter of Abraham, indicating that she was a woman of faith. But for some reason, which is not revealed, an evil spirit of Satan (v. 18) had brought about in her body an illness which bent her double. We cannot "explain" this. There may be many other such cases in the world. There are things we have not fathomed yet concerning the mystery of suffering and the power of evil" (Morgan).

We see the facts, but, thank God, we see more, for we find her meeting the all-powerful Saviour, who is able and willing to deliver. Jesus saw her. He called her to Him. He spoke to her. He touched her, and He healed her. What a blessed experience. Have you been to Jesus with your need? If not, why not come right now?

Observe that He had power and authority to set the woman free from Satan who had held her bound for 18 long years.

One would suppose that all would have rejoiced at this glorious deliverance, but we find that the ruler of the synagogue was angry. He viewed what he regarded as the breaking of the Sabbath day with alarm and

III. Perverted Solicitude (vv. 14-17).

It is a splendid thing to be concerned about good order, proper procedure and decorum, especially in the house of God. But when there is a human need and the Son of God meets that need by the working of His power, it is both folly and hypocrisy to obstruct or become angry because one's own interpretation of the proper order of things has been set aside.

This man, who as a religious leader should have realized that the need of humanity came above his consideration for the beast of the field (vv. 18, 19), and who should have rejoiced that the Son of God had done this miracle in the synagogue, rightly deserved the swift and stinging rebuke of Jesus. His objection was not really to the violation of the Sabbath, but to the working of God. Such men need rebuke.

One marvels that the church can read this passage again and again and never learn the lesson. One of the blights on the church today is the unwillingness of many of its leaders to permit the power of God to work. They don't want it. It upsets their plans and programs. If such a man (or woman) reads these lines, it is suggested that he read the eighth and ninth words of verse 18, then verse 5.

May God help us to fairly meet such an important issue honestly, and for the benefit of our eternal souls.

Ford Record Glass Run 20 Months Old and Still Pouring

Dearborn, Mich.—A record unparalleled in the history of glass making has been achieved by the Ford Motor Company's glass plant, where a huge 100-ton melting furnace has been pouring out a 51-inch wide sheet of glass without interruption for nearly two years. The run started on March 29, 1939.

Up to midnight of Friday November 22, the furnace had been pouring its white-hot ribbon of glass without a halt for 600 consecutive days. If laid out in a straight line, the sheet would make a broad glass strip 1,900 miles long—the distance from Detroit to Salt Lake City.

Statisticians at the plant have figured that the total weight of the glass output during the 600 days exceeds 46,260 tons and that the glass would cover, 42,100,000 square feet. The 51-inch ribbon pours from the furnace at the rate of approximately three and one-quarter miles per day.

"This record exceeds our most optimistic hopes," a Ford technician said, "although we felt sure we would break our old record of 159 days. Now that record has been more than tripled and the run is still going strong. Another few months and it will be two years old—if we are lucky."

The fact that the run is still in progress is a tribute both to Ford engineers who originated and designed the continuous rolling system and the glass plant personnel which has kept it operating.

Continuous rolling is much faster than the method it superseded, and it makes possible a uniform high quality of glass at a great reduction in cost.

According to the glass superintendent's office, a close watch over all steps in handling the furnace and over the uniform high quality of the "mix" have been major factors in prolonging the run.

"For example, we expected trouble with the metal rollers that receive the white-hot glass and regulate its thickness," the foreman said. "Under heat of around 2,200 degrees these rollers would oxidize and the glass might stick like dough to a rolling pin. We found a means of cooling them uniformly and adding to their life."

"Lubrication, handled by an automatic system, has figured in the record run, too. Another potential source of trouble was power failure which could halt the electric-driven machinery. But we solved this by installing an automatic circuit thrower that cuts in a new power line if one quits."

Glass plant workers, from foremen all the way down the line, are keeping their fingers crossed — and for good reason. When the record run stops, the interruption will mean a complete rebuilding of the 117-foot melting furnace and an overhaul for the mechanical equipment that feeds it.

LIFE JOBS:

At the Top

Resignations of Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes and Associate Justice James McReynolds from the Supreme court are expected shortly after the inauguration. It has been gossip in the capital for weeks that Hughes offered his resignation, but was prevailed upon by the President to withhold it until after the campaign.

The appointments, which are for life, are greatly sought after by lawyers who regard it as the highest honor that can come to their professions. Many have been mentioned for the two places, but there is some indication the chief justice place may be filled from members now sitting, either Mr. Justice Stone or Mr. Justice Douglas. If such would happen, the President could make three appointments instead of two.

For the other places there has been mention of Senator Minton of Indiana, who was defeated in the recent campaign; Leon Henderson of the SEC, and Attorney General Jackson. Appointment of Jackson might raise to cabinet status Francis Biddle, now solicitor general.

NAMES

... in the news

Prisoner—Mrs. Elizabeth Deegan, clerk in the U. S. embassy, was taken into custody by German secret police in Paris. The granddaughter of the former senator from North Carolina was accused of assisting British officers escape occupied territory.

Citizen—In 1936 Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the "Great Commoner" and minister to Denmark, married Capt. Boerge Rohde, gentleman-in-waiting to Denmark's King Christian X. Now in Lewisburg, W. Va. the former commander of the king's life guards has taken the oath of allegiance to the United States. He said he adopted citizenship because no other country in the world guarantees such freedom.

Romance—Diego Rivera, Mexican muralist, was married. Cupid shot him in a duel with Freda Kohla, who, incidentally, was the artist's third wife, from whom he was divorced in 1939.

TRAVELERS:

Sea and Air

President Roosevelt studied the Caribbean defense situation first hand, on the ground. On the U. S. S. Tuscaloosa he visited French-owned Martinique, British-owned Antigua, in the Leeward islands, as well as American territory.

The duke and duchess of Windsor reversed that schedule, coming from the Caribbean Bahamas, where the former king is governor, to Miami, Fla. The voyage was entirely in formal and was to give the duchess an opportunity to visit a dentist.

Col. William J. Donovan, wartime commander of the "Fighting Sixty Ninth," was a passenger on the Eu rope-bound Clipper plane under the name "Donald Williams." Last July Colonel Donovan visited England mysteriously just before the swap of U. S. destroyers for British air base in the Western hemisphere was announced. On this trip his destination is unknown and his mission un revealed.

MISCELLANY:

1. Turkish newspapers reported that approximately 200 Jewish refugees bound from Bulgaria to Palestine were drowned when their ship broke to pieces in rough seas near Istanbul, Turkey.

2. After 55,000 uneventful trips on the Chicago-Cleveland route, a United Airlines Mainliner with 16 people aboard crashed at the Chicago airport during dirty weather. Ten were killed, six injured.

3. For 10 years a gray-haired man lived in Johnson City, Tenn., raised a family, attained a splendid reputation and became a member of the police force. Then it was revealed he was E. E. Sapp, wanted by Texas police after his escape on a 99-year term in connection with murder of his first wife. Fingerprints in another case trapped him.

LAW ON THE FARM

By H. W. Hannah

DAMS—According to common law rules existing in Illinois, one who dams up or impounds water does so at his own risk, and if it subsequently causes damage to others, he will be liable for such damage. This is true whether streams or surface waters are dammed up. A riparian owner has a right to dam a stream so long as he does not interfere with the use of the water by downstream owners, divert the course of the stream or cause water to back up on the lands of those above him. How liberal the Illinois courts may be toward one who dams, diverts or stores surface waters of irregular streams for purposes of water conservation or soil conservation and improvement is not certain. The supreme court of Illinois has held that an owner of land receiving natural drainage from adjoining land may be prevented from building a dam or ridge causing water to back up on the adjoining land. There are no statutes of Illinois on the damming up of waters for such purposes, but the following laws have some bearing on the construction of dams in general:

1. The directors of soil conservation may, in enacting land-use regulations under provisions of the soil conservation Districts law, provide that landowners carry out certain engineering operations, including the construction of terraces, terrace outlets, check dams, dikes, ponds, ditches, etc.

2. Illinois law provides for and regulates the construction of levees or embankments through providing for the formation of levee districts.

3. Approval of the state must be secured before putting a dam or other obstruction in a navigable stream. In an Illinois case which went to the Supreme Court of the United States, the court held that the construction of a dam in a navigable stream was not objectionable if as a matter of fact the stream was not used for navigation.

4. Cities and villages have jurisdiction of waters within or bordering upon them to the extent of three miles beyond the city limits, and may change a watercourse, construct dams or perform other acts necessary for the welfare of their inhabitants.

5. Counties have power to remove driftwood and other obstructions from natural watercourses. There is no indication that this would give them any authority over the damming of streams but such authority might be inferred, if the circumstances warranted.

Economists also predicted an increase of between 16 and 32 per cent in hog prices by March and an even larger increase in the retail figure for pork. They said it was quite probable that hogs, now averaging about $6.25 per hundred pounds in Chicago, would be selling $1 to $2 higher before winter is over.
